

Special Holy Week series of Bishops' Faithcast podcast

Faithcast, the weekly faith podcast from the Irish Catholic Bishops' Conference, is launching a special Holy Week series which will focus on how we can live Holy Week as people of faith in the context of the coronavirus pandemic.

Faithcast is a mixture of interviews, news and stories of faith from the Catholic Church in Ireland. The podcast, which is usually published weekly, will now have a daily episode from Palm Sunday to Easter Sunday.

Contributors to the Holy Week reflection series are:

- Archbishop Eamon Martin, Archbishop of Armagh, Apostolic Administrator of the Diocese of Dromore and Primate of All Ireland
- Bishop Denis Nulty, Bishop of Kildare and Leighlin,
- Bishop Fintan Monahan, Bishop of Killaloe,
- Caoimhe de Barra, CEO of Trocaire,
- Brother Richard Hendrick Ofm Cap
- Father Vincent Sherlock of Achonry Diocese
- Brenda Drumm, Catholic Communications Office
- Ger Gallagher, Pastoral Worker in Dublin Diocese

The podcasts will be available here on www.catholicbishops.ie and on all Bishops' Conference social media platforms.
